War Secretary Plans to Curb Dissent of Mitchell Admirers in U. S. Army

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Heedless of the advice of his counsel, Colonel William Mitchell appeared as a witness Monday before the naval court inquiring into the Shenandoah disaster.

Before taking the stand Colonel Mitchell offered a written statement which Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones, president of the court, declined to accept until after the air officer had been sworn.

"Then," the colonel said, "I will offer the statement to the court."

He did so, the admiral accepting but not reading the document in which Colonel Mitchell called attention to his recent sentence of five years suspension from the army because of his attacks on government aviation policies, but pointed out that the sentence "is not in effect until approved" by the president. Until such approval is given, he said, his statutory rights should not be abridged.

NO AUTHORITY

The witness then was questioned by Maj. Henry Leonard, judge advocate of the naval tribunal, about his charges that the Shenandoah was not properly prepared and equipped for the western trip that ended with her destruction in a thunderstorm over Ohio. These charges were contained in the colonel's San Antonio statement, which led to his trial by court-martial. Replying to the judge advocate, the colonel conceded that he was not a qualified right airship pilot or a constructor of such craft. He added that he had had a "good deal" to do with design and construction of rigid airships, however, and in 1919 had caused designs to be "gotten up" for a dirigible to carry 15 airplanes.

WAS OVERWEIGHT

Maj. Leonard asked about Colonel Mitchell's charge that the Shenandoah was "about 50 per cent overweight."

The ship's limited cruising radius, the colonel replied, led him to believe that the Shenandoah was 50 per cent reduced in its ability to stay in the air and should not have been sent on long distance flights.

"I had a smacking suspicion that she was 50 per cent overweight," said the witness.

"On a 'smacking suspicion' then you were willing to alarm the country," asked Maj. Leonard.

"Yes, and I want to say right here that the question of aviation is a public question and discussion of it is not confined to the army and navy."

Colonel Mitchell said he had heard evidence during his army court-martial trial that the Shenandoah was only 3 per cent overweight, but insisted that his "personal knowledge from reports and things of that kind" caused him to believe that the overweight Mitchell said he considered it "very wise" to use helium gas in any type of lighter-than-air machine. He added, however, that the use of helium in the Shenandoah was another factor which had added to that ship's "overweight."

PLANS DISCIPLINE

While Mitchell was testifying before the Shenandoah court Secretary Davis of the war department was represented as planning means of emphasizing to any other dissenting individuals or units within the army the significance of the verdict of the Mitchell court-martial.

He is planning drastic action of certain elements of the service are slow to accept the Mitchell verdict as a disciplinary object lesson. While the exact identity of the disturbances which the secretary has in mind are not disclosed, it is known that the post-war organizations caused concern among special groups of officers whose units became absorbed by parent organizations.

Among these organizations are the chemical warfare service, which through new international treaties has been reduced to little more than a research agency, the transportation service and construction corps, now returned to the quartermaster corps, and the tank corps now merged with the infantry.

SOVEREIGN OF MECCA FORCED TO ABDICATE

Ruler of Ancient Seat of Mohammed Occupies Throne for Only a Year

Port Sudan, Egypt.—(AP)—Still another crown has toppled. It is that of King Ali of the Hedjaz, a territory lying partly along the Red sea in Arabia, known as "the land of pilgrimage" and which embraces the holy city of Mecca. Ali, like his father, King Hussein, has abdicated.

Since Ali ascended the throne in October of last year he has been sorely beset by Ibn Saud, head of the sultanate of Nejd, in warfare that has been almost continuous since 1919. The Wahabi tribesmen frequently made attacks against which the Hedjaz warriors were unable to cope.

While Hussein still was on the throne, Mecca was taken by the followers of Ibn Saud, and Hussein abdicated in favor of Ali.

Mecca in order to save the holy city from complete destruction. Ali went to Mecca and when that town fell proceeded to Jeddah.

Ibn Saud continued relentlessly an immediately began plans for the invasion of Jeddah. The Wahabis made the town a target for ferocious attacks and finally, last Friday, the defenses virtually collapsed and Ali later abdicated the throne he had occupied for little more than a year.

REPORT CONFIRMED

London.—(AP)—King Ali of the Hedjaz abdicated officially last Saturday and a provisional government under the local governor is making arrangements to hand over Jeddah to Ibn Saud of Nejd, whose troops are expected to enter the town on Wednesday.

This information was given to the house of commons Monday by Oliver Locker Lamson, parliamentary private secretary to Sir Austen Chamberlain.

Coolidge Seeks Democrat Aid In World Court Tiff

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1925 by the Post Pub. Co.

Washington, D. C.—Colonel E. M. House spent Friday night at the White House as the guest of President Coolidge.

This item of news spread quickly through the national capital and started everybody conjecturing as to its significance. For the first time the man who played such a part in the framing of the League of Nations covenant and the making of the Versailles treaty has been at the executive mansion since the fall of 1918. His break with the late President Wilson occurred at Paris in March, 1919, and when the colonel returned to America in the autumn of 1919 he was never again invited to the White House.

Coming at the very time when the Coolidge administration has under consideration the text of an invitation to attend the disarmament conference proposed by the League of Nations, it has naturally been assumed that Mr. Coolidge wanted to consult Colonel House about the conference.

Unquestionably the American commission will be bi-partisan and it would be natural for Mr. Coolidge to want the help of so prominent a Democrat as Colonel House. The latter has been a kind of unofficial ambassador of the League in America in constant communication with the men who are managing the affairs of the league. If America unofficially would like to see the invitation amended in some particular so as to permit of American participation, such a step might be taken.

The debate on the World court has just begun too, and the president is anxious to know as much as possible about the workings of the court about which Colonel House has as much information as any American. The foes of the court are using new ammunition almost every day. The president, on the other hand, is counting confidently on the support of the Democrats. His action in inviting Colonel House to the executive mansion may be interpreted therefore as a further strengthening of his tie with the supporters of the court in the senate.

BUTLER PREDICTS
DRY LAW REFORM

Columbia President Says Drive to Abolish Prohibition Is Moral Issue.

New York.—(AP)—The tide of public opinion has definitely turned against prohibition, in the belief of Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university.

Last week's senate debate started by Senator Edge, of New Jersey, was the beginning of what will be a successful movement to reform "the present intolerable situation," he thinks.

Voluminous correspondence on the subject, he said, in a letter made public Sunday night, showed that thousands of men and women who had been sincere prohibitionists have changed their views and are asking leaders in a movement to reform the present laws.

Dr. Butler's letter was written to Mrs. Victor A. Sengerman of Atlantic Highlands, N. J. and, contended that "to drive prohibition out of the country has become a moral issue."

The violation of "fundamental and righteous laws in the futile and law breaking attempt to enforce a foolish and untruthful law," he wrote is "the most immoral undertaking in which any government ever embarked."

TRUNK MURDER ARTIST DIES AFTER THEFT

Fear of Apprehension Kills Edward Keller Fleeing from Bank Robbery

Philadelphia, Pa.—(AP)—Death, hastened by fear of apprehension for bank robbery, has written the final chapter in the lawless career of Edward F. Keller, central figure in the famous McNichol trunk murder mystery of a decade ago.

The end came while he was fleeing in a taxicab with more than $12,000 in bank notes, gold and checks stolen a few hours earlier from the Corn Exchange National bank where he was employed as a night watchman. Physicians said that heart failure, superintended by fear, was the cause.

Fardoned about a year ago after having served the greater part of his 10 to 12 year sentence for slaying Daniel McNichol in 1921, Keller is believed by police to have planned the robbery for some time with an accomplice and then to have "double crossed" his accomplice a few minutes before death overtook him. He had come to this city in 1919 after having served a six-year sentence in Sing Sing for looting the funds of the New York City Fire Department association of which he was a member.

Keller had been employed at the Corn Exchange bank "about four months. He was missed when he failed to ring in on the time clock at one of the regular periods early Sunday. An investigation started by a protective agency ended shortly afterwards by the identification of Keller's body at a police station.

Officials of the bank were unable to explain how he obtained the money.

Keller was convicted of manslaughter for slaying Daniel McNichol, a business partner, whose decomposed body was found tightly jammed into a trunk in the basement of a vacant store on Dec. 15, 1915. McNichol, a nephew of the late state Senator James P. Nichol, had been missing for nearly a year and a countrywide search had been made for him.

RABBI WISE ACCEPTS JESUS' MORAL CODE

New York.—(AP)—Accepting Jesus of Nazareth, "not as a myth, but as a man," Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of the Free Synagogue, believes that the doctrines of the Nazarene are basically those taught by the Jewish elders.

If Christianity is impractical and unattainable as the Jews feel it is, Dr. Wise told a congregation in Carnegie hall Sunday, it is because Christians have failed to live up to form a teachings. The doctrines preached by Christ, he continued, form a code of ethics unparalleled in the history of morality.

"Jesus was," said Rabbi Wise, "I accept this despite the notion I had been led to believe earlier in my life—a notion that Jesus was a myth and never existed. I tell you and I will repeat these words to every Jew in the world if need be: 'Jesus was and we must accept this fact at once.'"

Need $1,900 To Reach Good Fellows' Goal

The Good Fellows club, still $1,900 short of its goal of $3,000, is going in to its final lap. A good many families in Appleton will be without Christmas this year unless there is a sudden awakening to the need which exists here for the help of the Good Fellows. The four charities cooperating through Appleton Welfare council need every cent of $3,000 to carry on their work. With less money it will be impossible to take care of all the families that require help. It will be necessary to the women either to raise the money required by other means or without help from deserving families.

Both of these means are evils in the extreme. It is not fair to ask the co-operating charities, which are doing their great work of mercy, to raise the funds which they require. That should be the work of the Good Fellows. It would be cruelly not to take care of families in distress simply because Appleton people are not big-hearted enough to see to it that money is provided for them.

These people are in need, hungry, cold, through no fault of their own. It is one of life's misfortunes. That their children are not of the sons of wealthy is an accident of birth. The children are too young to do anything for themselves and their mothers, widowed in most cases, are in no position to earn livings for them. Unless they are given help their fate will be starvation.

The contributions of Good Fellows are Christmas gifts to the poor. These are the only gifts they will get. Contrast their unhappy lot with your own families, with everything they need and almost everything they want. Christmas in your home is a day of great joy and unbounded happiness. For the poor it is just another day of perhaps bleaker than the one preceding because of the happiness about them in which they do not share.

It will be a disgrace to Appleton people if there is a single family forgotten on Christmas day because our prosperous people have not opened their hearts. The joy of being a Good Fellow is understood only by those who belong to this select organization. There still is time to join. All that you have to do is clip the Good Fellows coupon in this paper and send it with your membership fee to the Good Fellows club editor of The Post-Crescent. Do it today, before you forget it.

RAIL COMBINE PROPOSED

Administration Presents Its Cooperative Marketing
Department Bill

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Investigation of an alleged manipulation by the British colonial government of the price of crude rubber and other raw materials was ordered Monday by the house.

A resolution directing the house commerce committee to conduct the inquiry was adopted after Representative Hull of Tennessee, former chairman of the Democratic national committee, had charged Great Britain with "acting in bad faith" in the matter.

"The British government is laughing out loud at us," Mr. Hull said. "It is openly proclaiming that it intends to exact $4,000,000,000 in increased rubber prices to pay its war debt."

"Europe is laughing up its sleeve at the way we are being held up for rubber."

The resolution was introduced by Representative Tilson of Connecticut, the Republican leader, after a conference with Secretary Hoover.

EXPECT PULP PROBE

Representative Tilson supported Hull's position, declaring the British hoped to pay their war debt by the increased prices before this country could develop a source of supply for the crude products.

The committee is expected to go into the question of a proposed embargo by Canada on pulpwood. A committee representing the American pulp and paper manufacturers has been investigating the question and has charged that an attempt is being made to have the Canadian government to stop pulpwood exportation and thus force American operators to move their mills to Canada.

ONLY FARM BILL

The administration cooperative marketing bill was introduced in the house Monday by Chairman Haugen of the agriculture committee.

Haugen issued a call for the committee to convene on Jan. 11 for hearings on the bill as well as other farm related proposals.

The cooperative marketing bill, drawn by Secretary Jardine, endorsed by representatives of 31 cooperative organizations and approved by President Coolidge, is the only farm measure which now has the sanction of the administration. It would provide for a division of cooperative marketing in the department of agriculture, which would lend assistance to the cooperative marketing associations in the conduct of their business, but only at their solicitation. It would authorize an appropriation of $225,000 to organize the new division.

WOULD FORCE MERGER

Senator Cummins, (Rep.) Iowa, Monday introduced his railroad consolidation bill, which would give the roads three years in which to consolidate voluntarily and authorize the interstate commerce commission thereafter to compel consolidations.

Repeal of the flexible provision of the tariff act which allows the president to make certain readjustments of rates, was proposed in a bill introduced by Representative Hull, of Tennessee.

Extensive improvements to Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, including berthing space for 16 battleships were recommended to the house committee on naval affairs by Representative Stephens, (Rep.) Ohio, senior member of the special congressional committee that visited the islands last summer.

That's what they all are apt to say after they use a little ad in the classified section of the Post-Crescent.

The latest person to say it, was Mrs. M. Niels, 1017 W. Summer street. She advertised for a man to do odd jobs. She only wanted one man but she had eighty-two of them supply for the job.

Mitchell's Chances For Senate Look Favorable

Madison.—(AP)—Col. William Mitchell, who has been suspended from the army for five years by a court-martial as a result of his criticism of the air service, would have support as a candidate for public office from more than one source, some political leaders declare. His entry into the political field would meet with strong opposition from other quarters, however.

Members of both the Republican and Democratic groups in Wisconsin said Colonel Mitchell would receive support in a campaign for United States senator.

Secretary of State Fred R. Zimmerman, a supporter of the late Senator LaFollette, said that "if Mitchell runs as a progressive and as opposed to the Washington lords, there is no doubt but that he would be elected."

Mr. Zimmerman is a political enemy of Governor Blaine, who is regarded generally as a progressive candidate for the seat occupied by Senator Irvine L. Lenroot. Mr. Zimmerman has been mentioned repeatedly as a probable candidate for governor. He declines to make known his plans.

Former Judge Martin Lueck of Beaver Dam, Democratic candidate for governor in 1924, expressed the belief Colonel Mitchell would make a "strong" candidate for United States senator on the Democratic ticket and that his chances for a victory at the polls would be favorable. Mr. Lueck would not discuss the possibility of again becoming a candidate for governor, but said he was watching the political situation. He indicated that his plans for the future would depend upon developments after the end of this year.

Mitchell's chances of success at the polls in Wisconsin were believed by State Treasurer Solomon Levitan and F. J. Onstad, campaign manager for Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., to be slight.

"I am sure Mitchell would not have a chance here," said Mr. Levitan. "His father was a Democrat and I suppose he will be one also." Mr. Onstad also expressed the opinion that the colonel would not "get very far" as a Democrat.

The political views of the former chief of the army air service are not known here, although his father, John J. Mitchell, was a Democratic senator from Wisconsin between 1893 and 1917.

GREENVILLE MAN KILLED AS HE WALKS ON TRACKS

1 KILLED, 2 ARE HURT IN 2 ACCIDENTS

Joseph Hoier Badly Mangled When Train Passes Over His Body

One person is dead, two are injured and several automobiles were damaged as a result of accidents in and about Appleton over the weekend.

Joseph Hoier, 72 years old, resident of the village of Greenville, was instantly killed at 3:15 Saturday afternoon when train No. 116 of the Chicago and Northwestern road ran over him about a half mile north of Greenville as he was walking along the tracks. The body was mangled beyond recognition.

Mrs. Ervin Burmaster, 1414 S. Jackson-st., is at St. Elizabeth hospital with a fractured pelvis and dislocated hip, and Mrs. Carl Leuders, 519 E. Winnebago-st., is at her home suffering from shock and bruises, following an accident at 11:30 Sunday night when the car in which they were riding with their husbands skidded into the ditch on highway 47 about four miles north of the city.

DIDN'T HEAR TRAIN. Mr. Hoier, who had resided in Greenville for many years, was returning to that village after having visited his sons woodland near the railroad track. Being troubled with deafness, he apparently did not hear the approach of the train. The accident happened on a curve, and as the engineer did not see the man until the train had reached the curve, it was impossible to stop the train.

Mr. Hoier was born in Germany Nov. 1, 1843. After coming to this country he settled on a farm in the vicinity of Greenville, and has resided in that district ever since. He retired about 15 years ago, when he moved to the village of Greenville. He is survived by his widow, three sons, William of Greenville, Edward of Detroit and Clarence of Greenville, three daughters, Mrs. Reinhardt Puls, of Ellington, Mrs. Paul Kessel, of Milwaukee and Mrs. Nelson Nutting of Greenville; four brothers, Frank of Hortonville, Wenzel of Ellington, Charles of Santonia, Texas and Anton of Ellington, two sisters, Mrs. Peter Schmidt of Greenville and Mrs. Fred Barnum of Stephenville. Ten grandchildren also survive.

The funeral will be held at 9:30 Tuesday morning from the residence of Greenville, and at 10 o'clock at St. Mary church at Greenville. Interment will be in the parish cemetery.

Mrs. Burmaster and Mrs. Leuders were injured when their car skidded into a deep ditch. They were returning to Appleton and as they reached a point about a half mile north of the Woodlawn school on highway 47, the car skidded, turned completely around on the road and left the highway. Mrs. Burmaster was taken to the hospital at once and Mrs. Leuders was taken to her home. Neither of the men were injured, although the car was badly damaged.

Two persons escaped injury in a collision on the corner of Pacific and Drew-sts at 5:30 Sunday afternoon when a car driven by Herbert Fish, route 2, Hilbert, and one driven by William Aylward of Xenob, ran together. Fish was driving west on Pacific and Aylward was going south on Drew-st. The right rear hub cap on the latter's car was cracked, and the left rear wheel on the other machine was broken.

While driving north on S. Cherry-st at 11 o'clock Saturday night, Charles Hornbeck, 711 S. Walnut-st, ran into a car belonging to Caroline Arps, 705 Law-st, Kaukauna, which was parked on the east side of the street near the intersection with Third-st. The right rear fender and bumper was bent on Hornbeck's car, while the other machine received a bent bumper and left rear fender. No one was in the latter car.

Cloudy tonight; probably snow flurries in east portion; somewhat colder in east and south portions; Tuesday mostly fair and rather cold.

WEATHER CONDITIONS. The pressure is low over the east and high over the northwest this morning with cloudy and unsettled weather over nearly the entire country. Light snows are widespread over the central and northern sections and light rain over much of the south. These conditions would not seem to indicate much change in this section over Tuesday, light snows continuing probably for tonight at least, with slightly lower temperature tonight as the north-west "High" spreads its influence nearer.

Shortest Day of Year But Not First Day of Winter

If darkness overtakes you Monday before you complete your work, think no more of it. If time seemed to take wings in its never ending flight, he not surprised, for that is as it should be. The chances are you performed your daily tasks Monday just as rapidly as any other day, in spite of your near enough at hand to cause coal and wood dealers to give sighs of relief and coal consumers to lament. Crude, indeed, is winter.

Even poor little Johnny, whose time of play is limited to that brief period between the close of school in the afternoon and sundown, noticed the difference. He was doubly reminded of the shortness of the day, first when his play was so rudely cut short, and second when he returned home after dark. But when so many of his elders were fooled this day, does it seem quite right that Johnny should be reprimanded?

failure to equal your production of the day before or any average day. The trouble wasn't with yourself but with the sun, which cast its warm rays over the city only nine hours and four minutes. The remainder of the day was in darkness.

That also was as it should be, as Monday was the shortest day of the year. The sun rose at 7:26 Monday morning and set at 4:30 in the afternoon, just one minute earlier than it will Tuesday. The day was also one minute shorter than Sunday. When the sun rose one minute earlier. Ah—winter at last, you say. Not yet, however. Although Dec. 21 usually is considered the first of winter as well as the shortest day of the year, such is not the case this year. Winter does not officially start until 3:37 Tuesday morning, Dec. 22, according to the World Almanac. It lasts until 10:30 p. m. March 20.

HYDE ERECTS BIG SIGN ON HIS JEWELRY STORE

One of the largest vertical electric signs in Wisconsin was erected Saturday on the Hyde building, 101 E. College-ave by the F. C. Hyde and Co., jewelers. The sign is 16 feet high and contains 168 light bulbs. It carries the name "Hydes" in large white letters down the center, with the word "jewelers" across the top, and the word "optometrists" across the bottom. At the left of the name is a long arrow pointing toward a large diamond at the top of the sign, and at the right of the name is another arrow pointing downward toward an eye beneath the word "optometrists."

There is only one sign similar to this in the country, according to F. C. Hyde, and it is in New York City.

POSTPONE HEARING ON ROHLOFF PARDON PLEA

A hearing on an application for pardon filed by Arnold C. Rohloff of this city, who was sent to the state prison at Waupun last spring after being found guilty of embezzlement, has been postponed from Dec. 21 to Jan. 6, according to an announcement received here from the office of Governor John J. Blaine in Madison. The hearing had been set for Monday in an effort to get Rohloff out of prison before Christmas, but because of other business matters occupying Governor Blaine's time it was thought best to set the hearing for Jan. 6, when other pardon applications will be taken up. Rohloff was sentenced to 18 months in the state prison when he was found guilty of embezzling $250 from the Northwestern Petroleum Co.

P. O. SWAMPED BY CHRISTMAS MAIL

Every Inch of Space in Post-office Is Used for Holiday Parcels.

Hundreds of packages from outside Appleton have entered the postoffice for delivery in the city since Saturday. They came in such numbers that the basement of the postoffice building was almost impassable. Packages everywhere, of all shapes and sizes, and they were in piles halfway to the ceiling.

More incoming mail was handled

Monday than is expected any other day this week. The office was a scene of continual activity, and not a moment of respite was enjoyed at any time during the day.

Five clerks and 11 helpers have been added to the staff. The additional include three regular substitute clerks, two outside clerks, five substitute helpers and seven outside helpers. Four trucks also have been added to the regular fleet of two, and the truck which is ordinarily used only on rush occasions has been put into steady use.

Although the volume of mail for delivery on rural routes has increased tremendously, the majority of incoming parcels are for residents of the city. A decided increase in outgoing mail was noticed Monday, while the peak probably will be reached Tuesday.

HI-Y HOLDS PARTY FOR ALUMNI OF CLUB

All who have become alumni of Appleton Hi-Y club since the group organized several years ago have been invited to attend the homecoming meeting Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Plans are being made to make the affair one of the biggest events of the club year and a large crowd of former members is looked for. Only high school boys are eligible for the club and when a boy graduates he automatically leaves the group. Alumni members as far back as 1918 are expected. Several of the boys are home for the Christmas holidays.

Supper will be served at 6:15 and the guests will be able to depart by 8 o'clock for any other engagement. A review of the present club's work

13-Cent Stamp Will Go On Sale Here Next Year

A new 13-cent postage stamp will be issued within a few weeks by the federal postoffice department. It was learned here Wednesday. An order for several thousand new stamps will be placed by the local office, and the stamps probably will be offered for sale here during the latter part of January or the first few weeks in February.

The stamp is the same shape and size, .75 by .87 inch, as the 12 cent stamp of the current series, and is printed in green ink. The central design is a portrait of Benjamin Harrison within an oval with open background and is partly inclosed in a panel which is supported on either side by acanthus scrolls.

Above the portrait, in a curved line, appear the words "United States Postage" in white Roman letters. On a ribbon below the oval is the name
"Harrison," and under this, at the bottom of the stamp, appears, the word "Cents." In both lower corners, within ovals with dark backgrounds, are the white numerals "13." The entire stamp is inclosed within a crossline border with small triangular ornaments in both upper corners.

The first issue of the new stamp will be placed on sale Jan. 11, 1926, at the postoffices at Indianapolis, Ind., and Washington, D. C. They will also be placed on sale on the same date at the philatelic agency, Division of Stamp-Postoffice Department, for the benefit of stamp collectors and dealers.

The last 13 cent stamp was issued during the World War but at the close of this conflict the demand for postage and the government stopped issuing it. Change in postal rates has resulted in another demand for the stamp.

SCARLET FEVER MARS HOLIDAYS

Two Families Go Into Quarantine — November Contagion Was Light.

With two new scarlet fever cases announced in the last few days, Theodore Sanders, health officer, was unable to carry out his wish to have the city entirely free from quarantine during the Christmas season.
These are the only two in Appleton, however.

Five major contagion cases were recorded during the month of November, according to the monthly report of Dr. Felton, city physician and Mr.
Sanders. At that time the city had one typhoid cases, the only one for the entire year. There was one diptheria case and three of scarlet fever.
One new case of tuberculosis also was reported.

Minor contagion include six cases of measles and four of mumps. Nine licences were fumigated by Mr. Sanders and eleven released from quarantine. Eighteen complaints were inspected, largely in a checkup of the fresh egg law. Thirteen samples of milk were tested.

Births outdistanced deaths almost two to one during November, Dr. Fel-ton's report shows. There were 37 births and 19 deaths, 12 marriages and 25 burials. Home visits made by the city physician numbered 27 and office calls 20.

PAYING HOHENZOLLERN
Mr. William Hohenzollern, formerly of Potsdam, is the descendant of a family which has been accumulating German property since the tenth century, so far as history knows, and doubtless longer. Along with the property the family acquired titles to the most pretentious of which William fell heir. Germany has relieved him of the title, but it seems still to believe that it owes him for the property.

The Prussian ministry of finance has voted him $7,150,000 cash, some 180,000 acres of farm land and forest, three Berlin palaces and another in Babelsburg, and certain furnished Berlin house property. The money is recompense for crown castles, works of art, the Hohenzollern library, royal theaters, 70,000 acres of lands and forests, other property in Berlin, and revenue from crown lands. Several courts having decided that an emperor's abdication of title is no abdication of property obtained by him through his former influence and power, it was thought hopeless to struggle against legal obstacles.

Mr. Hohenzollern acquired these holdings by judicious use of inheritances from his forefathers. These ancestors levied on their helpless peasantry round about their medieval castles, and raised small armies with which they drove other barons - "robber barons," history calls them in a kindly discrimination - off their estates and confiscated their castles. When they had covered enough territory to be formidable they began loaning troops and money to various small German kings in the good old feudal fashion, receiving in exchange a title here, a few thousand good acres there, a special feudal right of deciding life and death somewhere else. One of them becoming disgruntled because he had not received enough for his military services to the emperor, went out and collected by carrying fire and sword through Saxony and Franconia, "wasting, plundering and committing shocking barbarities."

The accumulation of foreclosures, conquests and trades became Prussia, and Prussia, via the faked Ems telegram and the Franco-Prussian war, became the head state of the German empire. Finally a grandeur founded on the sword perished by the sword; and the world has hoped that Mr. Hohenzollern's fortune, similarly founded, would perish the same way. It would have been a mighty instance of poetic justice. As it is, the notion that a person who was one of the principal conspirators in the crime of 1914 should be regarded as entitled to millions in cash and more millions in real estate will be a world-wide exasperation.

A FRENCH LOTTERY
France in dire emergency and not as a permanent policy is asked by Finance Minister Louis Loucheur, ordinarily one of the sanest and most conservative of French business men, to establish a lottery and permit the people to gamble the government into funds.

The modern lottery nearest to our acquaintance is that which was so long maintained in Cuba, and is thought to have been responsible for the attempted "liberal" revolution a couple of years ago. But for that matter the United States itself owes part of the financing of its revolution to a lottery instituted by congress in 1776; numerous states have had them, and the last to maintain a thriving lottery for its bonds was our state founded in French traditions - Louisiana.

There is something in the French blood, apparently, which loves to pay taxes by gambling if sinner reason does not quell the impulse. M. Loucheur proposes a dangerous expedient, even for the emergency. A lottery as a privately conducted affair has its obvious drawbacks; applied to national uses it has the disadvantage of removing the natural objection to taxes, encouraging extravagance and ruining some taxpayers of small income.

FOOTBALL, LTD.
Coaches Vost, Stagg, Little and the others of the Western Conference fraternity have taken a vote and decided that henceforth no coach shall ever require his players to work out more than two hours each day, blackboard sessions included. That is good news.

The average college football player is taking from twelve to sixteen hours of scholastic recitation a week. If he studies an hour for every hour he recites he will average from four to five hours of study a day, about two of which can be on the campus between recitation periods. That leaves two to three hours of after-school study, which means after-supper study during football season. On, say, two days a week, when he has fewer classes, he will be spared the trouble of study after exhausting football practice. But on three or four days he will find no way out if he expects to hold his eligibility.

To require of a man attempting to keep up in his schoolwork that he engage in the most strenuous type of bruising physical exercise from three or so in the afternoon until dark or until a coach is satisfied that he has got his uttermost out of his charges is decidedly to place football out of all reasonable relation to the scholastic aim in college life.

Mr. Little and his colleagues are aware of the excesses to which football fanaticism may go and they are taking a step which will increase public respect for the game when they definitely limit its practice period. Some day all teams may approach the sanity of army and navy football in which an hour on the field is regarded as adequate practice.

The teams turned out will not be as finished, perhaps; but they will be a saner product of our educational system and will do it greater justice. Mr. Rockne, the Notre Dame coach, even believes the shorter period - an hour and a half in this case - results in better teams because it does not tire the men out but leaves them enthusiastic. It does not send them to supper with a feeling that they have been engaged in drudgery.

EXPLODED
Remember how anti-tobacco campaigners used to blow a puff of tobacco smoke through a handkerchief and then point to the brown stain as evidence of the frightful action of the deadly nicotine?
A writer in the current American Mercury remarks that this stain is caused simply by harmless coal-tar substances in the smoke, and that nicotine, being colorless, could not possibly be held accountable. Thus perishes another time-honored suspicion. And the hardy lads who puffed their cigarets in spite of the dreadful warning can rest at ease. They did the right thing.

TODAY'S POEM
By HAL COCHRAN
HARVEST
Go down in the cellar and saunter around. A bulging good treat is in store. You'll thrill at the harvest that always is found on shelves and spread over the floor.
Remember, last summer, when fruit was on sale, and mother was buying her share? She'd hie down to market with basket and pail, and now we are glad she was there.
'Twas not long that the jars and the cans, of good things contained not a drop. But mother got busy with fruit cookin' pans and now they are filled to the top.
Through cold winter evenings we'll slice up our bread, and eat of preserves till it hurts. We'll feel that like kings and like queens we've been fed when we tackle the canned up desserts.
The harvest of fall is a wonderful treat, but another one closely compares. For what is so good as the things that we eat from the harvest that mother prepares?

Winter brings its troubles, among which is trying to spit out the car window when you only think it is open.
Following in dad's footsteps would be all right if a young fellow could afford to lose so much sleep.
Some men are so honest their arms never steal around a girl.
The stingiest man on earth won't comb his hair because he is afraid it will wear out the comb.
Wonder if these women wearing fur coats ever wonder what the poor animals are wearing?

IN THE ENEMY'S COUNTRY
When the enemy begins to fall back he announces that he is retiring to positions prepared in advance. The old timers believed in catching cold and no bones about it. Recently they have conceded that infection has something to do with it, but they fall back upon the theory of lowered resistance and the weather, draught or wet feet lowers resistance.
Chafins or an outspoken chill is such a common symptom in the early stage of respiratory infection say pneumonia, smallpox, scarlet fever or coryza, that untutored laymen today an even the doctors of an earlier generation have always ascribed to cold causative role, whereas any intelligent person now understands that the chilly sensation or chill in the stage of invasion is a symptom or effect of the illness, not cause. At least intelligent persons understand this in the case of smallpox or scarlet fever, both of which diseases are respiratory infections. But in respect to other respiratory infections, say pneumonia, diphtheria, ordinary tonsillitis and ordinary coryza, neither laymen nor physicians have so much intelligence. They still like to imagine that the early symptoms in these cases are the cause or at least a contributing cause of the illness. Wine that error off the slate and one of the main props of the treacherous cold delusion is gone.

The Anatomy of the Second Leg
Think of the scores, nay the hundreds of times you are "exposed" to wet, dampness, draft, change of weather, change of clothing, in your routine living - if you are really alive - and of the remarkably rare occasions when you have any of the respiratory infections which pass as "colds." In spite of your neglect of those hygienic circumstances which the old fogey doctors tell you "lower resistance," and then think how easy it is when you do happen to catch something from your neighbor, to acquire him (since he had "only a slight cold," or maybe conceived the very fact that he had anything the matter) and to recall some exposure of yesterday as the probable source of your illness. That is the anatomy of the second leg of the "cold" delusion. Now the thing is left teetering precariously on two legs.

Data obtained from periodic health examinations - our knowledge from this source is as yet limited - seem to indicate that a majority of well persons have some low grade nose or throat trouble, trouble so light that the persons do not complain of it or which gives such mild symptoms that they acknowledge the abnormality only in answer to leading questions in the health examination, questions prompted by doctor's findings, such as temporary or frequent stoppage of one side of the nose or perhaps abnormal secretion. Common findings in such health examinations are sinusitis, hypertrophied or thickened turbinated bodies, deflected septum, nasal spurs, simple chronic rhinitis, adenoids, polyp, septal torsion - remember the individuals harboring these low grade lesions consider themselves well.

Lucky It Isn't A Centipede
Now when a well person has such a nose or throat lesion, even though he has learned to ignore the slight symptoms it produces, he is very likely to be unduly sensitive to physiological variations of the circulation. For instance, he will stuff up and begin to sniff and run at the nose or feel a desire to sneeze, cough or clear the throat whenever vasomotor reactions to change of environment, such as going from outdoors into a stuffy theater, or from an overheated room to the open air. The discomforts experienced by these really abnormal people who think themselves fairly normal are commonly misinterpreted by them for "taking cold," and being at least an influential minority if not an actual minority in the community, the ideas of these abnormal "well persons" strongly tinge the popular belief about taking "cold" from "exposure." There is no evidence that these persons are more susceptible to the respiratory infections than really normal persons are, but they have such a way of magnifying all their little mechanical circulatory disturbances into actual illness that it amounts to the same thing. Weed out the carriers of low grade lesions of the upper respiratory tract and the poor old delusion has but one remaining prop under it. The last prop we must reserve to demolish another time.

LOOKING BACKWARD

25 YEARS AGO
Monday, Dec. 21, 1900
Dr. Wilke, humane agent, claimed that Neenah is the most humane city in the valley. He saw a man using boiling water in one of the street sprinklers and learned that this was done for the protection of horses. Ice dissolved the moment the water struck it.

The Grand Chute Horticultural society was to be entertained shortly by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Buck in the basement of the Baptist church.
A stereopticon entertainment was given at the Methodist church that evening. The views were from Tissot's famous pictures.
A miniature blizzard struck Appleton yesterday and the barometer crawled down to 28.25 which was as low as it had ever reached during recent years.

John J. Sherman and Humphrey Pierce resigned as trustees of the Bells Watch Case Co.
Marriage licenses were issued to Charles W. Stevens of Denver, Colo., and Maude E. Manser of Appleton.
Mayor David Hammel returned home Saturday from a week's visit to his business interests at South St. Marie.

A marriage license had been applied for by Isaac Metoxen and Cynthia Denny, both Onida Indians from the reservation.
A telegram was received that Orin Earle was badly hurt at Aniwa and Pily Earle left on the evening train to go to him.

19 YEARS AGO
Monday, Dec. 20, 1915
Workmen of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. were engaged in cabling telephone wires in Hortonville.
A number of chickens were stolen last Saturday night from the coop at the home of Mrs. Gus R. Filz.
Piano in saloons were ordered still on Sundays by the chief of police.
Christmas turkeys were selling at 30 cents a pound this year which was about the highest they had been for 15 years.

Senator Robert Marion LaFollette was coming to Appleton to speak in the armory on Tuesday evening, Dec. 21.
William Bauer of Appleton, Superintendent of the Neenah mill of Kimberly Clark Co., was transferred to the Niagara mill. L. K. Knickerbocker took his place at the mill and John Tessenford was to take the latter's place at Appleton.

After an illness of about one month with pneumonia, George Prentice of Hortonville, died Friday in that village.

THE SLASHER
"Did your operation cost you much?" Asked good old Mr. Bates.
Oh, no," I said, "my surgeon friend Extended me cut rates."

"Ah, cut it out!" laughed the patient as the doctor kidded him about his appendix.

"We aim to please," reads a sign in a Milwaukee restaurant. But it seems that the cook is sadly out of target practice.

A former agnostic now goes to church regularly. The way some motorists dash around curves and force others into the ditch has convinced even him that there is a place of future punishment.

RUBBER PROBE IS ADVOCATED
No need of congress to bother about that. Motorists have been "probing" it for years and their verdict is that it doesn't amount to very much yet.

A few years ago there was an automobile for every ten persons and now there is an auto for about every seven persons. The automobile is constantly reducing the number of pedestrians. That's why.

WHAT A SHAME!
"Mrs. Lillian Stevens, cook, while emptying a coffee pot from the rear of Quarterboat No. 6, fell into the bay, and the coffee pot was lost. Mrs. Stevens was drowned. Efforts were made to recover the pot, but it could not be located." - News item from an exchange.

We ought not to be harsh with either the miners or the operators, for what is home without a coal pile? So cheerfully accept the lot of pay in the expense of their quarrels.

How does this coal strike strike you? And has it a striking effect upon your coal bin?

New York hotels have asked prohibition authorities for permission to serve mince pie mixed with brandy on Christmas. We don't know the plan of Appleton hotels, but we do know that they won't find Appleton people very particular. In partaking of mince and brandy, they would even go so far as give up the pie.

The Question Box
General Robert E. Lee said: "The thorough education of people is the most efficacious means of promoting the prosperity of the Nation." These words of the distinguished Southern General are none the less true now than when he spoke them. Q. Was the drought in the late summer and early fall caused by heat from automobiles? J. T. C.

A. The Weather Bureau says that such a theory seems untenable. If 14,000,000 pounds of gasoline were burned hourly in the United States under most favorable conditions imaginable - not actual - the air would be warmed only one degree Fahrenheit in a little over six years. Then the burning of gasoline produces water. Roughly, every gallon of gasoline burned means the creation thereby, from the gasoline and oxygen of the air of a gallon of water, which is added to the atmosphere and thus increases the absolute humidity.

Q. Why are certain words throughout the King James Version of the Bible italicized? J. H. J.

A. Italics in printing the Bible are used in case where it was necessary to insert additional words to make the translation from the original manuscript intelligible to the readers of the English text.

Q. I have been told that children in Czechoslovakia attend school on Saturdays. Is this true? C. M.

A. The school year in Czechoslovakia comprises 230 days, according to the schedule recently fixed by the Ministry of Education. Sunday is the only day of the week on which the schools are closed.

Q. What is a "suckener"? A. F.
A. "Suckener" is defined as a Scots law term meaning "the district embracing all the suckeners of any particular mill." A suckener is a tenant whose grain must be ground at a certain mill.

Q. How fast does Halley's comet move through space? M. C.

A. The speed of Halley's comet varies from 24 miles a second when nearest to sun to less than a mile a second when furthest from it. The head of Halley's comet is very much larger than the earth.

Q. How fast do quails fly? J. K.
A. Their speed varies from 65 to 85 feet a second, averaging about 75.

Q. When putting away a traveling bag for the season, should oil be applied? C. B.

A. It is better to give it a coat of saddle soap. This soap contains oil that should be used on the leather. The bag should then be wrapped with paper to keep out the air.

Q. Where are seal skins and other fine furs tanned? S. B. T.

A. Until about eight or ten years ago almost all of the dressing and dyeing of seal skins was performed abroad, but through steps taken by the Department of Commerce a dressing and dyeing plant was established at St. Louis. This firm is known as the Foulke Fur Company. All seal skins taken at the Pribilof Island are now regularly prepared for market at this place. Other furs are tanned at various places, although the majority are shipped to furriers in New York City.

Q. Is there any difference in the rate of growth of male and female chicks? C. P.

A. The Department of Agriculture says that male chicks grow faster.

EMERSON AS A "MODERNIST"
In the current discussion of "fundamentalism" and "modernism" it is often assumed that these questions are now agitating the mind of man for the first time. But like most current questions, this one is very old. One of the manifestations of it appeared in the life of Ralph Waldo Emerson. Emerson was what today would be called a "modernist," and it is odd that Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, the current arch-modernist, bears the name he does.
The specific issues on which Emerson qualified as a "modernist" were not exactly the same as those that are under discussion today. With him it was the Lord's supper and pastoral prayer. He was a young fellow of about 35 and he was the pastor of the famous Second church in Boston. At that time he had not yet made a name of his own. He had not yet written his essays and he had not yet acquired an international reputation as one of the foremost men of letters in the world. He was, to all outward appearances, just a minister of a church.

DARED TO DIFFER
And this young chap had the temerity to differ from the long line of famous ministers who had preceded him in that particular church. In Emerson's case there was a special difficulty due to the fact that he himself was the descendant of ministers in a direct line for seven generations. The traditions of his church and the traditions of his family for generations were in the direction of conformity. The weight of his surroundings was also in that direction. It appeared at the moment that he had every thing to gain and nothing to lose by conformity to the tenets accepted by the church he served.

But Emerson differed with those tenets and as a result he and his congregation went different ways. In blunt words, he was "fired," or what about amounted to the same thing.

Speaking of economic things on a smaller scale in Emerson's than they were are today. At preachers command hundreds, sometimes thousands of dollars, for single lectures, Emerson, even as he had become internationally known, never received more than $50. He often lectured for $10 and expenses. As to money from his books, Concord had brought his more his books.
But such essays as "The Poet" and "Nature" that brought their author most no money have as much as to be still read 500 years from as anything in American literature.

TEACHERS SERVE AS OUTPOSTS OF SCIENCE
Scott Nearing, In The Modern Quarterly.
The teacher is a sentry - an outpost in the realm of ideas. Most and women are too busy with routine of industry to devote themselves to the solution of these problems. They leave the task of finding ideas to teachers, editors, preachers. These last are the bound in a double sense - by character of their calling and by trust that the masses of men in their judgment and their consciences.

If the students and teachers history, economics, sociology kindred topics do not see the danger which threaten the common man will never become aware of presence until they leap upon him. And if the social outposts do warn him in time, how can he be sure to ward off the impending dangers?
Does the lookout in the fort leave his post? Does the sentry sleep on his beat? Can the sentry be faithful to the trust that been committed to him by society? Silence and desertion are the thing in the teacher. The loc who sees a rock and does not warn the sentry who hears the enemy phoaching and makes no outcry traitor to his comrades. The teacher who sees danger approaching community and remains silent traitor to his science and to his civilization.

Max Bauer was elected president of the Holy Name society of St. Joseph church at the business meeting which followed the breakfast served at St. Joseph hall Sunday morning. The society attended Holy Communion in a body after which a breakfast was served to about 400 members. Other officers elected were: Vice president, Henry Otto; recording secretary, Aloysius Stoegebauer; financial secretary, Ray Lang; treasurer, Henry Tillman; marshal, Edward Pleier. The Rev. Father Camillus was appointed spiritual director and the board of directors includes Frank Groh, Joseph Weber and Louis J. Schwaiblmair.

A committee was appointed to make arrangements for installation of officers to be held Jan. 10. A banquet and program will be given in connection with the installation.

PARTIES

A lighted and prettily decorated Christmas tree was one of the features of the Christmas party given Saturday night for members of Deborah Rebekah lodge and their families. A supper was served at 6:30 in the dining room after which 130 guests were taken into the lodge room to see the tree. The children presented a program of recitations, readings and musical numbers after which Santa Claus gave each person a box of candy. Arrangements for the party were in charge of Mrs. L. Forbes and Mrs. Mell Finkle.

Mrs. J. Diener entertained eight relatives at a dinner at her home at 219 N. Mead-st. Sunday evening. The occasion was her eighty-ninth birthday anniversary. Following a birthday dinner the evening was spent informally. Four of Mrs. Diener's daughters were present. They were Mrs. O. P. Schaefer, Mrs. H. C. Greaser, Mrs. G. L. Finkle and Mrs. B. A. Smolk.

An exceptionally large number of alumni turned out to attend the Christmas dancing party given in their honor by the student council of Appleton high school Saturday night. Approximately 100 persons attended. Christmas decorations and the Christmas tree were features of the party. Music for dancing was furnished by the Collegians. Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Marston, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Segal and Dr. and Mrs. M. Goeres.

About 50 children of the primary department of the Congregational church attended the Christmas party given Saturday afternoon at the church. The children brought gifts and toys to form a Christmas tree which will be given to a poor family in Appleton. Christmas games were played. Mrs. Earl Baker had charge of arrangements.

Boy Scouts of troop No. 8, Congregational church, will have a Christmas party at 7:15 Tuesday evening at the church. Christmas stories will be told around the fireplace and games will be played. Horace Davis and Charles Brinkley have charge of the refreshments and Harry Leith and C. Willard Cross of the program.

Ten friends of George Hoffman, 1528 N. Appleton-st., surprised him with a party Saturday night when he returned from Delevan where he had been attending school. Games were played and the prize was won by Gerald Hoffman.

Miss Irene Williams, 1614 N. North Division-st., entertained at a birthday party Friday in honor of her twelfth birthday anniversary. Prizes at games were won by Caroline Maurer, Genevieve Versteegen, Lucille Dexter, Alice Doerfler, Bernice Kohasky and Germaine Rammer. Those present included Dorothea Wonders, Betty Kamps, Violet Seaver, Irene and Leona Berg, Audrey, Fries, Caroline Maurer, Ruth Seaman, Harriette Seaman, Lucille Dexter, Bernice Kohasky, Genevieve Versteegen, Constance Hammes, Eileen Schomisch and Germaine Rammer.

Members of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. spent a busy morning Monday preparing for the all-department Christmas party Monday evening. The boys' department was decorated with green and red streamers and stringers. Each club in the department will present a stunt and the boys' council will award a prize for the best one. A Christmas gift exchange tree and a Santa Claus will help to enliven the party.

Myrtle Trentlage, vice president; Harriet Melnich, second vice president; Kathleen McKenzie, third vice president; Ray Salberlich, treasurer; and Tillie Jahn, secretary.

Mark Twain quit school when 12 years of age.

Quartet In Program At M.E. Church

An audience that practically filled the church heard the concert presented by the brass quartet of the 120th Field Artillery band at the third of the series of vesper services at the Methodist church Sunday afternoon. The quartet consisted of Edward F. Mumm, director, Anson Bauer, Edward Steenis and Arthur Demand. Prof. John Ross Frampton, organist, accompanied the quartet and played "Pastorale" from the Second Symphony by Widor.

"Barcarolle" from Tales of Hoffman by the brass quartet was probably the most popular number with the audience. Other numbers on the program included "Sextette" from Lucia; "Misereere" from Il Trovatore and quartet from Rigoletto.

TRADE SCHOOL PUPILS ATTEND HOLIDAY PLAY

About 100 part time students of the Vocational school attended the Christmas party Saturday night at the school. A playlet, "Why the Chimes Rang" was given by the drama club which has been organized this year. The electrical department of the school worked out the lighting effects and the woodwork class cooperated with the club by building a stage. Miss Martha Chandler directed the play.

Those who took part in the play included: "The Old Woman," Mable Feavel; "Uncle Bertel," Martha Brockhaus; "Steem," Lena Refke; "Holger," Florence Staedt; "Priest," Mary Foster; "King," Florence Marti; "Knight," Ruth Werner; "Proud Lady," Muriel Scherck; "Beautiful Girl," Mariena Schultz; "Student," Helen Wehner; "Rich Merchant," Frances Perang and "Angel," Frieda Priebe.

GREEN BAY YOUTHS WHIP LOCAL NET MEN

Youth again conquered over age and at its own game Saturday evening in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium when a volleyball team composed of Green Bay high school boys treated a group of local business men to a three out of five drubbing. The boys took the first three games by scores of 15-10, 15-13 and 15-9 and the men came back to take the other two 15-6 and 15-10. The victories were especially pleasing to the Bay boys as they are endeavoring to start the net game in the Green Bay high school and are scheduling games with outside mens' teams to stir up interest at the schools.

Members of the Appleton team were R. V. Landis, J. V. B. Cox, Alfred Bradford, Samuel Cookson and P. E. Dyott.

LITTLE REST FOR KAUKAUNA HIGH'S BASKETBALL TEAM

Resume Practice Shortly After Christmas for Game With Waupaca.

HEAVY VOTE IN POPULARITY TILT

Girls Working Hard for Prize Offered by Merchants to Most Popular Young Women.

Kaukauna—Members of the Kaukauna high school basketball team will be given about a week's rest, as Coach William Smith is spending the holidays at his home at Berlin. The coach will not wait until the opening of school however, before renewing drill of his team but will return to Kaukauna a few days after Christmas and active practicing will begin at once. Kaukauna's next opponent, Waupaca, is said to be a strong team, and the local squad will work hard to be in the best of condition.

The team is determined to enter the state championship tournament at Madison this year.

The Farwell-Gonyo combination of guards worked as pretty as any ever seen on the Kaukauna floor last Friday and they puzzled the West Green Bay men at every turn.

Rumors were current that Kaukauna had obtained a basketball game with Appleton but according to the coach there is no truth in the statement. Coach Smith tried at the beginning of the season to arrange a game or games with Appleton high school but its schedule for the season was already made, so that in all probability Kaukauna will not meet Appleton this year unless it is in the tournament at Appleton.

TAX COLLECTION STARTS DEC. 26

Penalty of 2 Per Cent Will Be Imposed on Payments Made After Feb. 1.

Kaukauna—Tax collections in Kaukauna will begin Dec. 26. The city treasurer will collect the taxes at the city hall, and office hours will be from 9 to 12 and from 1:30 to 4:00.

Taxpayers in Kaukauna will have until Feb. 1 to pay their taxes. After that a fee of 2 per cent will be collected, unless the city council grants an extension of time. Last year, however, the council decided against an extension of time, but this may be changed, if the taxes come in as slow as last year when, according to the city clerk, not enough money was collected to pay the city expenses during the month of January.

The city treasurer, Albert Lindstrom, advises property owners to bring their tax receipts from last year along with them as this will make the work much simpler and will also save a lot of waiting for the taxpayer. The city treasurer is under a bond of $30,000 as required by the city and he must also furnish bonds to the county for the amount of the county and state taxes.

SLIPPERY PAVEMENT CAUSES COLLISIONS

Kaukauna—The slippery pavements caused damage to a lot of fenders and bumpers over the weekend. The Appleton bus and a touring car belonging to B. Nyles were the first to mix on Saturday afternoon between Main and Second-st. Not much damage was caused, however.

Late Saturday afternoon Anderson's hears, which was being driven by Peter Anderson and a car belonging to Edward Seibold of R. 2, Elbert, mixed fenders. There was no damage beyond that. On the same afternoon two cars owned by Thomas Kavanagh and Edward Finigan locked wheels in front of Dr. Nolan's office on Wisconsin-ave. None of the accidents resulted in any injuries.

MILITARY FUNERAL FOR MAN KILLED IN FALL

Kaukauna—Funeral services for John Zink, who was killed Friday when a telephone pole on which he was working crashed to the ground with Zink underneath, were held at 9 o'clock Monday morning at St. Mary church with the Reverend Conrad Ripp in charge. Interment was made in Holy Cross cemetery.

Bearers were Morris, Richard and Joseph Lehrer, Anton Rhinehart and John Rieth. The American Legion firing squad and color bearers marched and a final salute was fired over the grave of the World war veteran.

KAUKAUNA PERSONALS

Kaukauna—Miss Margaret Prunty, Forest Zerronnerr and Adrian Manke of New London were Kaukauna visitors Sunday.

Mrs. Homer White left for Milwaukee Sunday where she will spend several days.

Miss Marian White of Milwaukee was a Kaukauna visitor for several days.

The average wage of a first class mannequin in Paris is only $5 a week.

Spiders that glow like fire-flies have been discovered in central Burma.

The gasoline tax, now effective in 41 states, is said to have originated in Oregon.

SPANISH VETS FORM CAMP AT WAUPACA HOME

Name of Gen. Charles King Is Given New Military Organization.

Special to Post-Crescent

Waupaca—At a recent meeting of the veterans of the Spanish-American war now living at Wisconsin Veterans Home the newly organized camp selected the name "Gen. Charles King" by which the camp will be known. Gen. King was known as one of Wisconsin's best soldiers. The camp elected officers and is likely to become a leading one in this part of the state. Several applications have been received from Waupaca and surrounding places and with the "boys" who are expected to enter the home in the spring the camp will have a large roster.

Reports say that roads leading into this city are rutted, and though the snow is not deep driving has become difficult. This condition is said to have been caused by continual driving in the old ruts instead of breaking new tracks. Surrounding counties used a disc during the mail spells to overcome this condition.

Newly elected officers of the Women's Relief corps are as follows: President, Mrs. Rosea Gotham; senior vice president, Mrs. Cora Jensen; junior vice president, Mrs. Sophia Stout; chaplain, Mrs. Abbie Van Epps; treasurer, Mrs. Alice Sheldon; conductor, Mrs. Ida Olson; guard, Mrs. Ida Niles. Delegates to the convention to be held at Racine in June, 1926, are: First delegate, Mrs. Cora Jensen; second, Mrs. Anna Flagg; third, Mrs. Hattie Ganes; first alternate, Mrs. Mary Kindsley; second, Mrs. Mary McLean; third, Mrs. Dena Nelson.

A program which will be presented in a vivid and striking manner is "The Nativity," a portrayal of the Christmas spirit, to be presented at the Methodist church at the annual Christmas exercises and program by the church school at 7:30 Wednesday evening.

The Christmas festival of the Baptist church will be held at 1 o'clock Wednesday evening. There will be a program of music and speaking followed by a social time for all. A tree will be one of the features.

Christmas exercises for the children of Holy Ghost Lutheran church will be held the Sunday evening after Christmas. On Christmas day there will be two sermons one in Danish and the other in English, the former starting at 10:30. The Sunday after Christmas at 10:30 Christmas services in Danish will be conducted. A congregational party for all organizations within the congregation will be held at 8 o'clock on Dec. 21. New Years day English services will be held at 10:30.

GREENVILLE GETS $565 TRACTION TAX

KIMBERLY MEETS PAILS ON COURT

Addition of Remmel Gives Menasha Good Chance to Break Athletic's Win Streak.

Kimberly—Tuesday evening, the Kimberly Clark Athletics, leaders in the Eastern Wisconsin Home Talent League are slated to play the Menasha team, holder of second place in the league, at the Kimberly club-house. Menasha trimmed Fond du Lac 7 to 5 in a hard battle, and is coming to Kimberly with a strengthened team and lots of confidence. Menasha has one of the best defensive teams in the league, and with addition of Remmel the selection for all-tournament found at the high school tournament at Lawrence last spring, slated for a forward berth, they should stand a good chance of breaking Kimberly's winning streak of five games.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. adv.

NO DELIVERY OF MAIL ON CHRISTMAS HOLIDAY

Special to Post-Crescent

New London—There will be no mail deliveries in this city on Christmas day, when the postoffice will remain closed except for maintenance of special delivery service, and for the relaying and sorting of mail in the office, so that normal service may be resumed after the holiday.

This ruling, which was made by the postmaster general, has met with widespread approval.

Miss Ramona McGregor has been added to the postoffice clerical force and Elwood Shirland added to the delivery system in order to take care of the annual rush which commences with the holiday season.

ROLL MUSIC WITH YOUR PERSONAL TOUCH JUST LIKE HAND PLAYING

The Gulbransen Registering Piano

Will Reveal Your Unsuspected Talent for Music and Bring You a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year

MANY people have talent for music. The only difference between them and musicians is that the talent of one has been developed and the other has not. Your musical talent may be unsuspected. But now due to the remarkable creation of Mr. A. G. Gulbransen, your unsuspected talent can be revealed.

Artistic hand playing had long been the ideal of Piano music. For only hand playing produced the personal Touch. Ordinary player pianos did not have it and were it not for the Gulbransen Registering Piano, music with your own expression would still be confined to the few who play by hand.

It remained for Gulbransen to supply the missing art between ordinary mechanical music played by roll and artistic Hand Playing.

You don't have to know one note from another to play this instrument by roll—better even than most musicians play by hand—for the Gulbransen creation enables you to play music of your own expression—your personal touch just like hand playing. Even the first time you play it you'll be thrilled. For it defied the ears of experts at the Music Trades Convention in Chicago who could not tell its beautiful music from hand playing.

Spare ten minutes to learn the joy of masterful music played by yourself. Come in and see why 125,000 Americans have selected the Gulbransen for their homes. Come and bring your musical friends. We welcome the opinion of those who know and appreciate fine music.

GIRLS WED AS MINORS, CHILDREN ARE OLDER

London—(AP)—There are many 15-year-old English girls married to widowers who have children of their own who sometimes are no younger than their little step-mother. There are boys of 17 wedded to widows with children scarcely less juvenile than their step-father.

This was brought out in a survey made in connection with putting into effect a new act requiring the consent of parents to the marriage of minors. It also was shown there are more than 35,000 husbands and wives in England and Wales under 21 of these, 38,000 were boys and girls in their teens.

These minors, it was stated, marry at the ratio of one out of every 30 girls between the ages of 15 and 20, and one out of every 40 boys of the same age group.

Make Your Own Christmas Candy This Year

Candy-making is as much a part of the Christmas celebration as the trimming of the Christmas tree. Home-made sweets are always popular, and furnish a generous reward for the trouble taken in preparing them.

The data recipe booklet gives eleven tested recipes for candy-making, among them being date squares, gypsy brown butters, fudge, date roll, date kisses, stuffed dates and creamed dates.

Add to the novelty and attractiveness of your Christmas confections this year by including some of these delicious creations prepared with dates.

WARN BUS COMPANIES, NOT TO DAMAGE ROADS

No objection will be made by the county highway commission of Fond du Lac to the use of snow plows by bus companies as long as the plows do no damage to the concrete roads, it has been announced.

Two years ago, it was said, a bus company in that county did considerable damage by scraping the concrete bare and clogging the side roads so that farmers had to shovel out large drifts in order to get to the main roads.

No complaints have been lodged at the Outagamie highway office as no bus lines have thus far been operating plows in the county. The highway department keeps the roads open between the county asylum and the Riverside sanatorium and Kaukauna.

40 MEMBERS IN AUXILIARY AT END OF CANVASS

Hortonville Women Will Give Banquet in January for Newcomers.

Hortonville—The membership drive put on by the auxiliary of Hammond Smith post of the American Legion, closed with twice as many members enrolled as formerly. There were two teams working in the campaign, one captained by Mrs. F. O. Brunckhorst, the other by Mrs. Walter Lueck. The evening drive closed both teams were tied for members, each having enlisted nine new ones. The plans were that the losing team would give a banquet and entertainment for the winning team; however, these plans have been changed so the old members will give a banquet for the new ones the first part of the year. The initiation of the new members will also take place at the same time. The auxiliary now boasts 40 members and expects to have about 25 more in a few weeks. The members recently completed 15 booths, which they will send to the veteran's hospital at Milwaukee.

STAGE AND SCREEN

BEACON HILL LIFE COMES TO FILMS

"The Love Gamble," a Banner Production from the novel by Maymie Greig, at the New Bijou Theatre today and Tuesday.

Allan Rich has the principal feminine role, with Robert Fraser playing opposite. Others among the principals are James Marcus, Pauline Garon, and Arthur Rankin, all of whom do excellent work.

The story relates the adventures of a Beacon Hill girl, who lived there among the Boston Bohemians, but was not of them. Instead, she sought a business career. Love complications, with strikingly possible situations and clever acting, make the picture one of the unusual films of the season.

It is the first picture incidentally, to present the life of Beacon Hill in Boston. Heretofore they have taken their atmosphere from Greenwich Village, New York, or the Latin Quarters in Paris.

FISCHER'S APPLETON THEATRE

Janet Adler, one of the best known singers of popular songs in vaudeville, will headline the bill at the Fischer Appleton for three days starting Thursday in a song cycle in which she is assisted by her "Synchopators," a jazz orchestra of 10 pieces. The organization is fresh from a big success at the Newman theater at Kansas City, Mo., and at the Sun theater in Omaha, Neb. Being held two weeks at each city. The program will include "Alone at Last" by the Synchopators, "Kiss Deep in Daisies" by the Synchopators, "I Wonder Where My Baby Is Tonight" sung by Miss Adler with the band, and "Yes Sir, That's My Baby" sung by Miss Adler with the Synchopators.

Sloppy Lamore and Jean Rozell will afford many laughs with a minstrel oddity.

Don Sky and Frank Perry will entertain with comedy and imitation as well as fine music on violin and guitar and Seville & Phillips will present a novelty styled "Huntings."

PICTURES TELL NATIVITY STORY

Art and Music Combined in Service of Congregational Church.

Members of First Congregational church had the story of Christmas illustrated to them at the evening service Sunday. A combination service was conducted with the reproduction on the screen of famous pictures depicting the nativity and musical accompaniment by the choir and soloists who sang carols and other numbers.

The program opened with four of the old-time folk songs of Christmas followed by two solos from Handel's "Messiah" by Carl J. Waterman. These represented the Biblical prophesies of the coming of the Christ child. The pictorial program then was begun, showing the earliest paintings of the annunciation and those of more modern artists. The shepherd scenes were accompanied by carols as were those of the nativity, when Marshall Hurlbut, Mrs. A. H. Miller and Mrs. Carl J. Waterman sang solos. The offertory solo, also from Handel's "Messiah" was sung by Miss Isabel Wilcox. Three great paintings of the Madonna were explained by Dr. H. E. Peabody in his address.

At the morning service the special music consisted of trio selections by Miss Marion Miller, violinist, Joseph Zickler, cellist, and LaVan Maesch, organist. The choir numbers were "Emmanuel" (Gilchrist) and "From Heaven High the Angels Came." Dr. Peabody's sermon was on Good Will to Men.

CHILD BORN AS FATHER'S BODY IS TAKEN AWAY

Just as the body of Paul Oldhogg, Kimberly rd., was being taken from the home for burial Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, a daughter was born to the widow. Mr. Oldhogg died from injuries received when he fell from a scaffold at the Kimberly Clark Co. mill Monday morning. The infant daughter, Siena Pauline, died Saturday morning. The funeral services were held at 11 o'clock Saturday morning at Riverside chapel. The Rev. L. L. Schreckenberg conducted the services. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

BOY HURLS STONE, HITS COMPANION

11-Year-Old Edward Plach
Suffers Fractured Skull
While at Play.

Struck on the head Saturday morning by a stone thrown by one of his companions, Edward Plach, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roman Plach 1021 E. South River-st., is in a serious condition at St. Elizabeth hospital with a fracture of the skull. An operation was performed on the youth about noon Saturday.

Edward had been playing on the banks of the Fox river for several hours with a number of his friends. About 11:30 one of the boys suggested a climb up a certain hill, taking the lead himself. When part way up he turned around and discovered he was alone.

Picking up a stone which lay at his feet, the boy threw the rock toward the group below, striking Edward on the head and knocking him unconscious.

A mother of one of the children who witnessed the accident rushed to the side of the fallen boy at once, picked him up and carried him to the home. A physician was called and he immediately took the youth to the hospital.

PANTOMIME AT S. S. EXERCISES

Congregational Children Will Hold Annual Program
Wednesday Night.

Church school exercises of the First Congregational church will be held at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening, when a program will be presented in story and pantomime entitled "The Christmas Quest." A gift service will take place at the close of the service and candy will be distributed to the children by the Baran class.

"Star maidens" will tell the story of the first Christmas as related by Luke and Matthew. Each portion of the story is portrayed in pantomime. Those who take part in the prolog and the characters they represent are: Mary, Elva Carter, Joseph, Wilder Schmalz; shepherds, Norman Johnson, Carlton Roth, John Frankton, wise men, Roland Kippenhan, Frank Harriman, Robert Zschachner; star maidens, Kathro Graef, Evelyn Kreiss, Marie Hertzmaier, Ruby Reed, Jane Stevens, Barbara Timme, Louise McMarston, Katherine Russell, Betty Post, Annette Lutz, Maxine Fraser, Doris Warning, Jean Frankton, Eleanor Vockis, Ethel Merkle, Charlotte DeVoe.

An interlude between the two parts of the exercise will be occupied by the story of "The Christ Child's Quest," as told by Miss Ione Steenk. The "End of the Quest" then takes place, and is a play of a typical home at Christmas time. Characters are: Mother, Josephine Buchanan, father, Harry Leith, girl, Bernice Spaulding, boy, William Zuehlke, carolers, Doris Brinkley, Norma Prink, Jean Rasey, Wilson Patterson, Mary Louise Mitchell, John Horton, Richard Davis, Paul Miller, nurse and children, Jessie Small, Vern Prunk, Arthur Downer, Margaret Lappen, family in the north, Ruth Owen, John Gueather, William Wilson, Mildred Kramer, Eleanor Herick, family with Christmas basket, Kathleen McKenzie, Suzanne Jennings, Carlton Schwandt, Julia Van Ooyen, lonely man, Willis Elsnor, colored children, Sheldon Huett, Joseph Koffend, Julia DeVoe, Ruth Huhn, Japanese family, Jean Owen, William Meyer, Clinton Schmidt, Eunice Park, Robert Wilson, Mary Reineck.

Trial Postponed
Because his attorney, John Morgan, was out of the city, the trial of George Kruse, barboy-rd., charged with wife desertion, which was set for Saturday morning was adjourned. No date was set. Kruse is in the county jail, having been unable to furnish bond of $500.

Directs Ticket Sales
Stanley Lowe, of Appleton, son of John Lowe and a student of Marquette university, Milwaukee, again was director of ticket sales during the football season this year.

STATE REQUESTS DRAWINGS FOR CHERRY OUTLET

Jog in Street South of Bridge
Removed Through Golf Club's Gift.

Indications that the opening of S. Cherry-st the remainder of the way to highway 15 and its paving are to take place early next year are contained in a request received by the city to submit drawings of the project to the state highway department at Madison. These plans are being prepared by E. M. Connelly, city engineer.

One big improvement will be made in addition to opening up of the direct road connecting Cherry-st bridge with W. Foster-st. It will be the minimizing of a jog in the south bridge approach through generosity of River-view Country club. The club made a donation of land for right-of-way when they bridge project first was contemplated and now has given another triangle so the street can be straightened considerably.

When the question of paving the street across the city set out to overcome the objection of autoists to the curve in the roadway just south of the bridge. The golf club learned of the situation and has deeded a triangular piece of land to the city over an expanse of 245 feet. It is 40 feet wide at the north end and tapers down to a point that the other extremity, where it is lost in the original road again. With this added land available, Mr. Connelly has surveyed for a reverse curve so gradual that the driver hardly will notice he is making any turns and the bridge will be in full view all the time. The curve is 1,100 feet long, and as the entire roadway from the bridge to Foster-st is 2,835 feet long, it can be seen that the bend is too slight to notice.

This straightening of the roadway will mean the relocation of part of the boulevard. A few of the trees in the grass plot at the center probably will have to be cut down but enough of them can be saved so the beauty will not be diminished. The roadway has a boulevard all the way to the south city limits in the plans which Mr. Connelly is to submit to Madison, and he is hoping the highway commission will make the portion in Winnebago conform to this idea. There will be two roadways, 18 feet wide each, designated for one way traffic.

Land in Winnebago-co through the Lynch farm has not been obtained, but it is understood that the neighboring county board has taken all steps necessary to condemn the portion required. This probably will be done so that the paving will be completed early in the coming mowing season.

Drawings also are being made in the city engineer's office for the State's payment and it is the department's plan to provide a boulevard here also for at least part of the way. The street is about 78 feet wide from W. College-ave to W. Gilmore-st and then becomes somewhat narrower. Ample room is available for boulevarding at least this portion.

NEW PLOWS ARRIVE HERE FOR CITY SNOWBUCKING

Snow can come now in light flurries or deep drifts so far as the city street department is concerned, for all is in readiness to dig the roadways out on short notice. The two big steel "V" plows have arrived here in response to the order placed with a Wausau company several days ago. They were being fitted to city trucks Saturday. They can be attached or detached in five minutes once the equipment is fixed. When ever a heavy snowstorm comes the plows will be clamped on and the trucks will begin moving through the streets, forcing the snow to the sides and leaving a wide path for motor traffic.

Open at Night
Barber shops of the city will keep open until 9 o'clock on Wednesday evening Dec. 23 to accommodate the large number of persons who want to be "spruced up" with a haircut for the holidays. The usual closing hour on Wednesday and Saturday evenings is 8 o'clock. The shops will close at 8 o'clock on Thursday, Dec. 24, Christmas eve.

SKATING TAKES ON POPULARITY

Work on Ice Rinks Is Bringing Out Fans—Need Snow and Cold Weather.

Skating fast is becoming the all around outdoor sport here now because of the work the city is doing in preparing the various rinks. All have had their first ice except one which is to be located in Rich park in the Sixth ward. It will not be possible to build this one, R. P. Hackworthy, street commissioner declares, until there has been a snowfall, as there is nothing with which to bank it.

Another rink which has been added to the series in all parts of the city is one in the new park in the W. Packard-st ravine. This has been flooded over and is in use. Electric lights are being put up at each place and were expected to be turned on Saturday night.

The street crews would like to flood the rinks again but the weather became milder Saturday, making quick freezing impossible. The youngsters pleaded with the men to wait, for fear there would be no skating over Sunday. The work was therefore deferred. It is possible that there will be snowfall in the meantime, which will help to obtain a good banking.

Youngsters in the First ward are sorry now that they were mischievous on Halloween night, when they tore up the benches at the rink opposite the school building. They discover that they have no place to sit, Mr. Hackworthy has forgiven the boys, however, and has ordered the benches rebuilt.

PIERCE COUPLE WED 25 YEARS

Vows Are Renewed at Church
—Banquet and Bridge Party Held.

Menasha—Pastmaster and Mrs. W. H. Pierce celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Sunday. Their nuptial vows were renewed at 7:30 mass at St. Patrick church Sunday morning by the Rev. G. A. Clifford. Their attendants were Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hrubesky.

At 5 o'clock in the afternoon 35 relatives and friends were entertained at a banquet at Hotel Menasha. After the banquet the guests repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pierce, 520 Keyes-st., where bridge was played. The honors were won by John Walter, Mrs. David Harrell of Oshkosh, Mrs. Robert Halford of Minneapolis and Mrs. C. W. Pierce.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Martin Walter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walter, Bend Bend; Mr. and Mrs. David Harrell, Oshkosh; Dr. and Mrs. D. C. O'Connell, Mrs. Louise Glapp, Milwaukee; Miss Lucille Vogelsang, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cheek, Long Island; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Halford, Minneapolis.

FUND FOR NEEDY GETS GOOD SUMS

Clearing House Is Arranged
So There Will Be No Duplication.

Menasha—All needy families of Menasha are assured Christmas cheer through the centralization of the work of the various charitable organizations. The Christmas cheer fund is growing rapidly and among the largest subscribers are the Elks, $50; Knights Templar, $50; Community Club, $25; Ladies auxiliary of Henry J. Lenz post of the American Legion, $20. Besides these contributions the fund has been increased by several individual gifts.

The central committee that has charge of the work is composed of E. J. Oberweiser, chairman, Miss Edna Robertson, secretary, James H. Ramsay, Ben Plowright, Rudy Hart, Mrs. Fred Peterson, Mrs. Frank Smith, Maebelle Gear, R. C. Miller, Mrs. William Gear, Miss Caroline Schlattman, and Miss Pauline DeWolfe. The organizations taking an active part in the clearing house are American Red Cross, department of recreation, Women's Relief Corps, Ladies Auxiliary of Henry J. Lenz post of the American Legion and Community club.

The committee has established headquarters in Elks club with Miss Robertson, secretary, in charge. Splendid cooperation is being given by the various organizations and a system of clearing which will avoid duplication is being worked out. A meeting of the committee will be held Tuesday evening at which a report of the progress will be submitted.

The clearing house is American Red Cross, department of recreation, Women's Relief Corps, Ladies Auxiliary of Henry J. Lenz post of the American Legion and Community club.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC IS VESPER SERVICE FEATURE

Neenah—Mrs. D. K. Brown and Mrs. Joseph Keenan, sopranos; Miss Caroline Hess, contralto; Fred Reich, tenor and Ellsworth Stiles, baritone, were the soloists at annual Christmas vesper service held Sunday afternoon at First Presbyterian church. The large chorus choir under the direction of Miss Florence Haupt, assisted the soloists in selections from the "Messiah." Mrs. Annette Sindahl Matheson and Miss Helen S. Haret were accompanists. The service was largely attended.

HIGHS DEFEAT ALUMNI IN 1ST GAME OF SEASON

Former Stars Try Comeback in Final Quarter But Are Unable to Catch Up.

Neenah—Neenah high school basketball team, playing its first game of the season, defeated a team composed of alumni players at Roosevelt gymnasium Saturday evening by a score of 15 to 13.

With Schneider, Stulp and Ehrigott of last year's district tournament winning team in the front line, and Hollenback and Gaertner of last year's squad as guards, the team showed up well and promised another fast squad this year.

On the Alumni team were four players from the last year team. Brendelick, Koerwitz, Keating and Parker, who have lost none of their speed. Parker, captain of last year's team, was the point maker for the Alumni five, scoring three baskets for his team.

The game was interesting, especially in the last quarter when Alumni team made most of its points. The scores:

High School	fb	ft	f
Brendelick, c.	5	0	0
Koerwitz, k.	0	1	0
Keating, g.	0	0	0
Cross, f.	0	0	0
Gaertner, g.	0	0	0
Hollenback, k.	0	1	0
Ehrigott, f.	0	1	1
Alumni	5	5	1

Substitutions—Highs—Ehrigott for Cross, Cross for Ehrigott. Schultz for Cross and Johnson for Schultz. Alumni—Jorgensen for Handler, Referee, Kalfas, timekeeper, K. Olson.

Before the main game the Sophomore class team of Neenah defeated Menasha Sophomores 15 to 7, during the intermission a comedy game was played between the tallest and shortest boys of Neenah high school. The only basket was made by August Reiter, the smallest boy in the lineup.

DEFER ACCIDENT SUIT ONE DAY

Mrs. Wagner Will Have Hearing
Before Commissioner on Tuesday.

Neenah—An adjournment of one day has been taken in the hearing of Mrs. O. L. Wagner who was notified to appear before court commissioner Monday to determine whether her claim for $3,000 damages alleged to have been suffered when she was struck by Mrs. C. H. Brown's automobile was justifiable. The hearing will be held Tuesday afternoon in Oshkosh.

Mrs. Wagner is suing Mrs. Brown for $3,000 and her daughter is suing for $2,000, claiming they were both injured while walking on N. Commercial-st. They allege they were run down when Mrs. Brown drove her machine on the walks in an effort to avoid colliding with another car coming out of an alley which she was about to enter.

ARE CHANCE TO MEET CITY NEED,
GOODLAND SAYS

Has Many Uses for Langstadt-Meyer Co.
Structure, Mayor Points Out.

The opportunity of a life-time for the Langstadt-Meyer building on Washington-st for a new home for police, fire and street departments is here, in the opinion of Mayor Goodland, Jr. A. G. Koch, chairman of the fire and police commission and George P. McGillan, chief of the fire department, also are looking into the reported advantages of site.

While the mayor has made no official plea for the purchase of the building, he declared himself convinced of the advisability of it and gave the project his support.

German Mark Catlin brought up matter in the meeting of the commission last Wednesday night. It had been held in abeyance for several months. He strongly urged purchase of the building as he believed that the city could not strike a better bargain.

APPRAISE ENGINE HOUSE
Last year when Judge Edgar V. Bremer of the circuit court appointed an appraisal commission in the Langstadt-Meyer receivership case.

Learned that the city was interested in making a possible trade of present fire department building with the Langstadt-Meyer, company house, he suggested that the appraisal commission appraise both buildings. Mayor Goodland consented to arrangement.

The report of the commission, coming of Thomas W. Orblison, B. J. Hike and George C. Lange, filed the mayor's office appraised the structure in the values at $45,450. Appleton's fire department building on Oneida-st and W. Washington-st was appraised at $15,000 and the at $18,500, or a total of $23,500.

It raised the Langstadt-Meyer property on W. Washington-st at $82,000, $24,000 for the lot and $58,000 for building.

Mayor Goodland considers the location ideal and appreciates the fact that this building would provide more in one entrance, which seems to be chief handicap at the present fire station. Mr. Catlin even suggested that four entrances could be provided at the new site.

NEED MORE ROOM
We cannot put off much longer day when we must obtain new larger quarters for the fire department," Mayor Goodland said. The present quarters are not only small but are in too congested a situation, with the street car tracks an arterial route and state highway in front of it. If an accident should occur in front of the door here time of fire, the department would be out of luck, that's all.

The Langstadt-Meyer property would provide a more convenient exit building could also be used for fire department headquarters. The city will come when we will need a new room; this would provide the necessary room. It is suggested that the big basement of this building could be used for the street department vehicles. I don't think it could be the place of the street department building we propose erecting in the west end, but the basement would be a very useful purpose. The day coming when the police department need "fluffers" for patrol duty which are used in a number of cities they cover the most territory and are it often that a patrolman on duty. The basement would afford the necessary garage space.

When asked as to what plan of financing the purchase of the building preferred, he said that a bond issue would not be necessary, nor would the entire purchase price be demanded at once. Reasonable terms could be arranged to pay off the amount in a few years, he believed.

A. G. Koch, president of the fire and police commission, declared that there was no reasonable doubt of the necessity for a new building for the department, but admitted that he did not yet given much thought to the Langstadt-Meyer property. He did recognize the need of the department for better exits and for a better fire drill purposes.

Chief McGillan was almost as reserved in expressing his opinion on the Langstadt-Meyer site.

American Youth Retains His Desire For Firearms

Contrary to a popular conception, the demand for guns among boys and men is as great today as it ever was, William A. Groth, proprietor of Groth's Sporting Goods shop, 305 W. College-ave, declared. Especially is this true of boys living in the country. "Their familiarity with fire arms is what makes Americans the best soldiers in the world," Mr. Groth said. "From early youth to middle age the average man in this country handles a gun and his adeptness at finding a target has been proven time and time again in the various wars in which the United States has participated."

Mr. Groth said that a youth passes through different stages toward manhood, so does the type of gun which he uses change. With the exception of toy guns, the first fire arm which a boy learns to use is the ever popular air rifle. This gun satisfies his desire for some time and his happiest moments are those when he is shooting sparrows or other legitimate game. After he has attained a certain degree of proficiency with the air rifle he becomes dissatisfied with the weapon and longs for one which will shoot further and straighter. The next step is the .22 rifle.

With it he very soon becomes a "good shot," as his experience with the air rifle stands him in good stead. The greater possibilities with the rifle also afford him a greater personal satisfaction and he wonders how he ever managed to get along with the air rifle and BB shot.

From the .22 rifle the youth graduates into the shot gun class. As before, he is at first satisfied with the cheaper type of shot gun, but as his experience with the gun increases, so does his desire for a weapon possessing a faster rate of discharge.

The first shot gun usually is a single barreled affair which he soon trades in for one with two barrels. The pump gun and automatic then follow in the order named, although the former, because it is cheaper, leads the other by a slight margin in volume of sales.

The rural youth usually excels the city youth in marksmanship, according to Mr. Groth, although this of course does not always hold true. Those living outside the limits of the city have more opportunity to use guns and consequently use them often, he pointed out.

But the idea that boys are turning their attention to other forms of sport instead of hunting was discredited by him. He stoutly maintained that the youth of the present generation is as much a follower of Isaac Walton as was the older generation and he bases his opinion upon the sales of firearms.

CAN'T FIND WITNESS, CASE IS ADJOURNED
The trial of William H. Hope of Stevens Point, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, which was scheduled to be heard Saturday morning in municipal court, was adjourned to Wednesday, Dec. 30, when one of the state's witnesses could not be located.

According to the complaint, Hope sold a Chevrolet roadster on Aug. 21 to Joseph N. Garvey, 414 S. Cherry-st, and said that extra equipment to the value of $165 was included on the machine. Garvey alleges there was no such equipment, and charges that Hope was aware of this at the time the transaction was made.

Hope is at liberty on $300 bond. He was arraigned Nov. 18.

It was possible to erect a tower next to the building for fire drills. It has gotten so that we can't do any drilling on the street without causing inconvenience.

NEED TRAINING LOT
"The fire department should also have vacant property on the side of the building. All the outdoors that our firemen now can have is that which they get sitting on the benches on the sidewalk. The Langstadt-Meyer building provides such space as there are two big lots on each side of it. It is a two-story building and sleeping quarters could be provided for the firemen upstairs. Considerable remodeling and partitioning would have to be done. I think that before an agreement as to price were made, the city might engage an architect to draw up plans and estimate the cost of remodeling it."

"Our present quarters were bought by the city in 1907 on my own advice. Just at that time I suggested and expected that the city would also buy the property next door for erection of a tower. This the city failed to do, but that is not to be blamed against the present administration. At that time also no one dreamed of the traffic congestion that would be encountered here some day."

If no new quarters are acquired at this time, Chief McGillan said, he will ask that a side entrance be provided for the present building. The department vehicles would then leave the building by the W. Washington-st entrance and would use the N. Oneida-st entrance in emergencies.

MANUAL ARTS STUDENTS PRESENT GIFT TO SCHOOL

Members of the manual arts department of Appleton high school under the direction of Harry Cameron played best Santa Claus at the Christmas program for students of the school Friday afternoon. The classes presented a combination bookcase and bulletin board to the school library as a Christmas gift. The article consisted of a number of book shelves with a large bulletin board forming the extension of the back part. It was made by members of the classes.

The morning program opened with a reading by Miss Margaret Sherman of the school faculty. In the afternoon the program was in charge of Miss Ruth McKernan of the school speaking department. The quartet of the First Methodist church, composed of Mrs. Oscar Adler, Mrs. J. T. Quinlan, Carl McKernan and George Nixon, sang a group of Christmas carols and Mr. McKee led the student body in a number of Christmas songs.

Decorated with Christmas trimmings and a Christmas tree and Santa Claus added to the enjoyment of the program. The assembly room was decorated with Christmas trimmings and a Christmas tree and Santa Claus added to the enjoyment of the program.

Adventures Of The Twins

Some Facts About Big Ben
"What do you think of this Ben now, children?" asked Tick Tock, the clock fairy. "Isn't he big?"
"Bigger than all the other clocks in the world put together, I guess," said Nick.
They were up in the clock tower of the Parliament Buildings in London. The Twins were. Big Ben was the name of the clock there.
"I'll try to tell you all I can remember," said Tick Tock. "Let me see—his face is twenty-four feet across and his minute hand fourteen feet long. It sticks out a little over the edge of the face, so long is why it is more than eleven feet long as it really should be."
"That long iron bar that swings down in the tower has a weight on the end that weighs one hundred and fifty pounds. That is the great pendulum and it swings back and forth to keep Big Ben going."
"By the way, my dears, Big Ben has four faces exactly like this one. He isn't two faces, either, for he is as honest as Old Abe. I'll take you along this little hallway and we can pass behind all of the faces. There! Didn't I tell you? The numbers are all two feet long and the space between each minute mark is fourteen inches. Look on your clocks at home and you will see that the spaces are usually smaller than the top of a lead pencil."
"Now, come, and I will show you the bells."
The Twins followed the clock fairy into another sort of room, and there hung Big Ben and all his brothers, from wooden beams bound with iron. Great chains held the bells in place. "Do they ring like dinner bells?" asked Nancy. "Does someone shake them?"
"No, indeed!" said Tick Tock. "These bells never budge. Great hammers strike them. Big Ben strikes only the hours—the other bells strike the quarter and the half hours. The hammer that used to make Big Ben ring was too heavy and cracked him. So they turned him around and kept on using him. It didn't make any difference at all in his voice. Only they had to get a bigger hammer. The first hammer weighed seven hundred pounds. The new hammer weighs only four hundred pounds."
"Are the bells heavy?" asked Nick. "Well, Big Ben, the biggest of all, weighs thirteen tons," said Tick Tock. "His little brothers weigh eight tons, three and one half tons, two and one half tons and two tons. Just babies, you might say."
The Twins laughed. "My goodness, yes!" said Nancy. "This must be the biggest clock in the world!"
"It is the biggest of its kind," said Tick Tock. "But there is a clock in Germany with a bigger face, or dial. But it has only one hand—the hour hand—and it is not so hard to keep going."
"It takes two men five hours to wind this fellow and he is wound twice or three times a week."
"In winter so much snow and ice get around the hands, that it is quite difficult to keep everything going properly. But his time is perfect. Only two or three days a year does Big Ben lose as much as three seconds. You children do not know how wonderful that is."
"I'm still GO-ING, GO-ING, GO-ING!" struck Big Ben.
"My oh! We've been here an hour," said Tick Tock.

LETTER FROM SALLY ATHERTON TO LESLIE PRESCOTT

My Dear Leslie:
Yes, our dear Bee is dead. Her fears were not unfounded.
She was taken sick on Thursday, and hastened to the hospital, where it was found that a Caesarian operation was necessary.
She seemed to get through the operation all right, and we were greatly encouraged. She soon came out of the anesthetic and apparently there were no bad after-effects from it. The next morning, however, she called me into her room and said solemnly:
"Sally, it's all over. I'm going to die."
"Don't say that, Bee," I remonstrated. "You're getting along fine. The doctor says you'll be out in a month at the latest."
I bent down to kiss her, and she held my face close to hers.
"The doctor does not know, dear Sally. I am sure that I will never leave this bed alive."
"Don't you want to live, Bee?" I asked. "Aren't you going to make any effort to live?" I am sure it all depends upon you now. The doctor says there are no complications anywhere, and you have so much to live for—a lovely little girl, and a husband who adores you, beside a host of affectionate friends. Surely, you don't want to leave all these."
"Yes, I know that, and sometimes I think I do want to live, but I know it would be no use."
"What makes you so morbid, Bee? Why are you so sure you aren't going to live?" I asked. "Are you in pain?"
"Not the slightest bit, Sally. I just don't feel alive any more. It is as though I had no more interest in any of the things of this world. Why, when Dick comes in to see me, it just seems an effort for me to raise my eyes to his face. When they put my little girl in my arms after I came out of the anesthetic, I expected that wonderful thrill that I have always been told comes to a woman at that time—and Sally, it did not come—I looked down at the little downy head poised on my bosom. I felt the moist mouth nuzzling about my breasts, but that peculiar ecstasy composed of material and spiritual emotion was not mine."
"Sally, I had no feeling for the keenest disappointment. The baby didn't seem mine. I tried oh, I tried to get hold of myself. You do not know, Sally, how I tried to understand it all. But some way it would not straighten itself out in my mind."
"And the pleasant feeling any woman would have when she feels the softest skin of a newborn babe against her own, but any other sensation beyond the mere physical one is non-existent. It has all been such a disappointment. I am sure I do not have a mother's feeling toward my baby, and I am so disappointed with myself for not being equal to it."

FONDY "CALLS OFF" LEAGUE GAME WITH APPLETON

Fountain City Manager With Crippled Quintet Pulls Trick On Locals

Game Is Called Off With Appleton Team on Floor As Fondy. Stands to Lose Money.

WEEK'S SCHEDULE
Tuesday—Fond du Lac at Oconto.
Friday—Sheboygan at Oconto; Beloit at Two Rivers.
Saturday—Beloit at Sheboygan.

Appleton's cage squad of the Interstate Professional league "enjoyed" a ride to Fond du Lac Saturday evening where they were scheduled to play the Co. M. team of Fondy in a league battle, but they were not destined to enjoy playing the game. With several of the Fondy players seriously handicapped by injuries which would have helped the locals win a game, Messrs. Brunkhorst and Watson, Fondy's managers, decided to save a trimming and also a little money. Using as an excuse the fact that the Appleton party was delayed by a breakdown, the Fondy promoters called the game off and sent the crowd home with their money returned while the local squad was on the floor.

The Appleton men arrived in Fondy at five minutes before game time while one of the Fondy men was speaking, saying that the game would be called off and all money refunded as Appleton had not arrived. Though the fact was called to his attention that the local men were there he kept right on with his talk and sent the crowd home. With a Fondy Co. M. Menasha home talent game cutting in on the profits of the evening's entertainment several cripples in the Fondy lineup there seemed to be a fine excuse to call the game off. As the Fondy management stood to lose the game and also about $175, the game was called off and Appleton was refused even expense money for the trip, but was laughingly offered another Saturday night date. Local officials intend to file formal protest with league authorities demanding the game by forfeiture.

FONDY GOES BACK INTO TIE FOR 2ND IN E. W. LEAGUE

Fountain City Crew Whips Menasha, 30-23, on Home Floor; Hard Games This Week.

STANDINGS
Kimberly	3	0	1.000
Fond du Lac	2	2	.500
Menasha	2	2	.500
APPLETON	0	3	.000

WEEK'S SCHEDULE
Tuesday—Fondy at Appleton—Menasha at Kimberly.
Wednesday—Appleton at Menasha.
Saturday—Kimberly at Fondy.

SATURDAY GAME
Fond du Lac 30, Menasha 23.

Menasha winner over Fond du Lac on the Menasha floor Wednesday evening, tasted defeat at the hands of their victims Saturday night, when the Fountain City boys won on their home floor, 30-23, to even the score. The Fondy win put the two teams back in a tie for second place. Both teams played nice ball and showed an improved offense.

The Christmas week's schedule is full of important battles starting Tuesday evening when two games are carded. Appleton meets Fondy here in a grudge battle and Menasha travels to Kimberly to try its hand at whipping the loop leaders. Fondy beat Appleton at the Fountain City by a basket after the local crew had led all the way. The Appleton timer insisted Appleton was ahead with time up but Fondy demanded a minute and a half more play and won the game before the local men could settle down after the argument. The game here will be a hard fight for blood. At Kimberly, the loop-leaders are expected to add another win to their string, but Menasha is likely to show a surprise. Kimberly won handily at Menasha, but the Paul lineup has been greatly strengthened since then, especially with Remmel, former high school star and all-district forward in a suit.

Wednesday both Appleton and Menasha face their second game with the Pails having an edge with the battle on their home floor. This game should be close as the squads are evenly matched. Saturday's game will see another close battle with Kimberly at Fond du Lac. Fondy is expected to give the K-C crew its hardest opposition this year and the first loss for the leaders is not improbable. A new combination without a great amount of practice gave the Athletics a nice battle in the loop opener and the Fondy team outplayed and outscored the villagers after the first half. With three games under their belts they expect to be able to outscore the leaders both halves this time, especially at home. Kimberly has only met one team, and that a disorganized Paul city crew, away from home this year.

BERLENBACH READY FOR TITLE FIGHT

New York (AP)—Paul Berlenbach, light heavyweight champion of the world, has agreed to meet the winner of the Mike McGuire-Tiger Flowers 15 round contest to be held in New York Wednesday night. In a conference with Jess McMahon, matchmaker at Madison Square Garden, Berlenbach said that he would not draw the color line but would be prepared to meet any worth challenger and McMahon at once set the date for Berlenbach's next title fight for Feb. 5.

OUTSPRINTS BLACK GOLD

Here is Black Gold's little brother—priceless wonder. By Black Gold's out of Uscell, the same size and dam that gave to the turf the shining Black Gold, this unnamed youngster—who will not be two years old until March, has already beaten the three-year-old record of his illustrious big brother. He has just been brought down to New Orleans and in the spring will try to emulate Black Gold on the turf. Which, by the way is some record, including the winning of four stakes races—the Louisiana Derby, the New Orleans Handicap, the Kentucky Derby and the Ohio Derby, all during the 1923-24 campaign.

HOUSE BOARD ASKS TO IMPEACH JUDGE ENGLISH

Washington (AP)—Initiation of impeachment proceedings against Federal Judge George W. English of the Eastern Illinois district as a result of charges of corruption rested Saturday with the judiciary committee of the house. A special house committee in a report adopted Friday night declared the judge "guilty of high crimes and misdemeanors requiring the interposition of the constitutional powers of the house." The committee reached its conclusions after extensive hearings during the summer in St. Louis where the charges against Judge English originated.

Testimony before the committee in St. Louis related to charges that Judge English has debauched attorneys unwarrantedly, unlawfully permitted referees in bankruptcy Thomas to practice as an attorney in bankruptcy suits and of irregularities in connection with handling and disposal of assets of bankrupts.

PHILIPP ESTATE SELLS MI LOLA CIGAR COMPANY

Milwaukee (AP)—Control of Mi Lola Cigar company has been purchased from the estate of the late former Governor U. L. Philipp by Joseph Froelich, head of J. Froelich and sons, leaf tobacco dealers it was announced Saturday.

The Philipp estate, however, will retain a part interest in the business. A new corporation will be formed to carry on the business.

PROFIT OF $97
About $97 will go into the treasury of the J. H. Y. club as the result of the benefit motion picture, The Ancient Highway which appeared at Fischer Appleton Theater the last two days. The boys of the club sold over 200 tickets to the picture.

BERGE HAS HIGH PIN AVERAGE FOR HOTEL NORTHERN

Mark of 10,110 Pins in 57 Games Nets 177 Average; Jimos Holds High Record.

H. Berge has the highest average for the pin season thus far of any knegler on the Hotel Northern team, according to averages issued last week. Berge clouted over 10,116 pins in 57 games for a 177 mark. He is closely followed by Andy Jimos who knocked off 10,567 maples in 60 games for a 176 average. His total pins were the most knocked over by the Northern bowlers. None of the men rolled below a 167 average. Jimos also copied two other high marks, high single game, 255, and high series, 635.

Records follow:

	Pins	Games	Ave.
A. Bauer	7,557	45	172

PAIS GIVE OSHKOSH HIGHS TOUGH BATTLE

Oshkosh (AP)—Oshkosh high school defeated the Menasha high school in a basketball game here Friday night, the score being 13 to 9. It was nobody's game up to the final minute of play.

LIFE PLUS 20 YEARS FOR MURDERER-MORON

Milwaukee (AP)—A sentence of a life term in state's prison at Waupun and 20 years additional was meted out Saturday in municipal court to John Stenert, confessed slayer, who first assaulted, then murdered 5-year-old Roy Tolmann, and burned his body here last Tuesday. Stenert was immediately taken to the prison in an automobile.

12 CORNERS LOSES FIRST CAGE BATTLE

A basket and two free throws in the final quarter of play helped defeat the Twelve Corners basketball team in its opening game of the season Friday night at Valley Queen hall at the High Five of Appleton as on-on-ht. The final score was 19 to 9.

The game was hard-fought throughout with neither team being more than three points ahead at any stage and no man on either squad caged more than two baskets with the clock winding. The Corners boys showed plenty of fine play but fouled frequently and were unable to find the basket on easy tries in the early part of the game. With another game under their belt they should have a fine season. The score was 9 to 6 for the home boys at the third quarter, but a basket and the two free throws ended the game for the Appleton squad, which stalled the final two minutes of play.

More than $500,000,000 worth of candies of all sorts are annually consumed in the United States.

STORY OF C. C.

Business Magazine Will Give Appleton Boost in January Issue.

"Fifty Jobs Your Association Can Do for You" is the title of an article about Appleton Chamber of Commerce which will appear in the January issue of System magazine. This will be the twenty-fifth anniversary souvenir of the A. W. Shaw Co., Chicago, and will be circulated to more than 200,000 subscribers.

The article was prepared by Hugh C. Corbett, secretary, at the request of the publishers and deals with the many activities conducted here in community work. A picture of Appleton's trade map issued by the chamber for the better-ties contest accompanies the magazine story.

Some of the principal activities mentioned in the list of 15 are: Retail classes, credit information bureau, retail bulletin, monthly retail report, use of package libraries and university educational films, endorsement committee to check advertising impositions, information and research department, cooperative retail sales, farm questionnaires, traffic bureau, tourist department, industrial bureau, participation in state products exposition, farm and city acquaintance meetings and forum dinners to discuss "bread-and-butter" subjects.

Appleton will gain considerable publicity from the article, because the souvenir edition will be circulated all over the United States and will be in the offices of most of the leading business houses.

THEATRE AND CLUB GIVE HOLIDAY PARTY TO KIDS

A Christmas treat is in store for Appleton kiddies next Thursday afternoon for at that time Fleischer Anderson theater will be host to all youngsters in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades of the city at a free entertainment. The picture, "The Little Prince and the Pauper," will be shown at 2 o'clock and 5:15.

The distribution of tickets is being taken care of by the Kiwanis club which also will provide each youngster with a bag of peanuts and candy.

NO BUILDING PERMITS ISSUED FOR LAST WEEK

Evidence of the slump in building activity which has taken place in Appleton is shown in the office of G. E. Peotter, city building inspector, who has not had a call for a permit for an entire week. Construction has been dropping off gradually since the weather became colder so that now about the only activity is the erection of a few homes, and one or two remodeling tasks. Common laborers feel this condition the most, perhaps, as they are without work and cannot be absorbed by the mills.

REVENUE OFFICE TO BE TAKEN FROM OSHKOSH

The United States revenue office at Oshkosh which has jurisdiction also over Appleton and surrounding territory is about to be removed from that city on Jan. 1. It had been located in Oshkosh for more than 46 years.

The plan of reorganization affects all of the six internal revenue districts offices in Wisconsin which under the proposed consolidation would be reduced to two central offices in Milwaukee and Madison. A H. Wilson, Milwaukee, chief of the office there, has confirmed a rumor of the plan. The Oshkosh Association of Commerce has telegraphed Senator Tamm, at Washington protesting against the change.

TWO YOUNG MEN WILL OPEN NEW PHARMACY

A new drug store, which will be known as the Conway Pharmacy will be opened at the Conway Hotel by Fred C. Abendroth, 344 E. Franklin St., and Earl C. Weiermann, 110 E. Franklin St. about Feb. 1. The pharmacy will be located in the store now occupied by the Little Paris Millinery shop. The Little Paris shop will be moved to the home of Mrs. Harry Schaefer, its owner, on 318 E. Washington St.

The Conway Pharmacy will be equipped with modern fixtures and conveniences. Fixtures are now being manufactured. Abendroth has been employed by the Downer Drug Co. for over ten years, and Mr. Weiermann has been in the employ of the same concern for two years. Both are registered pharmacists.

MARKET FOR USED CARS SHOWS NO IMPROVEMENT

What has become of the market for used cars? Appleton automobile dealers and garage owners say "there ain't no such thing as the present time." This is especially true of the larger cars, as the prices of new cars have been lowered to such an extent during the last year, that it is as easy to purchase a new car as to buy a second hand one. Even the used cars which have been well taken care of are hard to sell because of the many price cuts during the last few months. There is still a fairly good market for the cheaper makes of second hand cars, but the sale of these has fallen off considerably.

TWO GARBAGE DUMPERS SEEN

City Officials Are Working to Stop Menace in Washington-st Ravine.

Dumping of garbage into the E. Washington-st ravine probably will come to a stop, because the vigilance of residents there has resulted in the identification of two of the offenders. They were notified by R. F. Hack, worthy, street commissioner, Saturday that the practice must be stopped at once or arrest and prosecution will follow.

Warning was issued last summer that only dry refuse and no garbage could be deposited in the ravine, because of the menace to health. New signs were put up to this effect. The dumping practically ceased for the time being but the law has been violated of late and complaints have been reaching the office of Mayor John Goodland, Jr. Watch therefore has been kept for the offenders and two have been found.

Dumping of tin cans has been one of the causes of complaint. Many of these are not thoroughly emptied of their food contents and the result is that rats by the hundreds infest the ravine, living from these cans. The remedy for this is to rinse the cans before they are thrown out, city officials say.

Speeder Pays Fine
The usual fine of $10 and costs was imposed on James Heenan, route 3, Appleton, by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Saturday when the former pleaded guilty to speeding. He was arrested at 7:30 Friday evening by Police Officer Carl Radtke on N. Richmond-st., charged with traveling 30 miles an hour.
